BALTIMORE COUNTY ANNOUNCES FREE FAMILY FUN FOR SUMMER 2009

Towson, MD (June 8, 2009) Baltimore County celebrates summer with a guide to more than 60 free events, attractions and activities for families. The "Free Family Fun" guide, available at www.visitbacomd.com, includes a calendar of free summer events and concerts plus free or "almost free" (less than $10) activities available year-round.

"Now, more than ever, value and convenience are key when searching for activities to enjoy with your family and friends," said Jill Feinberg, tourism director for Baltimore County's Department of Economic Development. "Baltimore County offers local families and visitors so much to explore, from waterfront activities and community festivals to historic War of 1812 and African American heritage sites."

Free summer events include tasting historic ice cream flavors at the Hampton National Historic Site, music at Frederick Road Fridays in Catonsville and Feet on the Street in downtown Towson, nature walks at Marshy Point Nature Center, and kite flying at the Glenn L. Martin Maryland Aviation Museum.
